Tajagro Chakki fresh Atta is also the very good branded atta, which is from the company Tajagro. Now already we know about the many products of the Arrow Company and now it is the Chakki fresh atta by the same company, which I am going to talk about. Actually the quality of the Aro fresh Chakki atta is very good. it is a cleaned and refined atta which is free of any kind of worms which forms due to old stock of the atta. The packing of this atta is also done very neatly. The main point to be noted about this product is that the cost of the Aro fresh Chakki atta is very low compared to any other branded attas that are kept of sale. And even the quality of the chapathi, or roties that I prepared using this atta was very good and very soft. I really liked this product.

Our whole wheat Chakki atta is prepared with fine grains and contains high proteins and tastes natural. It is packed in such packages that it retains the freshness for long, remains rotten free for years and in moisture free packaging
