Our Quality Stamp Products :

The large demand for spices, raw cotton and seeds, being made on the global level is diligently completed by our experienced professionals with complete quality maintenance. Catering extensively to the food processing sector, we source the red chilies from Guntur & Warangal Region of Andhra Pradesh & all over world. Our professionals procure some other spices only from the producers involved in quality crop production.

Committed to achieve excellence in quality of our products and services, we have deployed an on-line quality system to control all the production stages, which starts right from the purchase of raw materials to the final delivery with qualified technical personnel to oversee the entire production process. This ensures a faster production rate without any product contamination issues. Further, we take adequate stands in the packaging stream, carefully sealing the product pouches, in order to refrain from any loss of aroma and texture, along with completely eradicating any moisture seeping chances.

Why Sesame Seeds...

Sesame seeds contain healthy poly-unsaturated fats which are great sources of Omega 3 and Omega 6 essential fats which your body cannot produce. These essential fats play a crucial role in brain function, in healthy cell development and in the normal growth and development of your body.

Even though sesame seeds are pretty low on the ingredient list it still has to meet the same strict standards as the fruit and nut mix which is right near the top of the list.

Natural White Sesame Seeds

These flat and tiny seeds contain about 50 to 60% of fatty oil, which is characterized by a two lignanes, sesamin and sesamol. During refinement two phenolic antioxidants, sesamol and sesaminol are formed. A distinct quality of the white sesame seed from Ami Oil Mill is its uniformity in color and bold size. Seeds from our factory have an enhanced nutty taste that is the hallmark of pure seeds. The taste becomes even more profound when they are roasted. White sesame seeds from Ami Oil Mill are preferred by national and international producers of bread, breadsticks, cookies, chocolates, ice-creams, for salads and salad dressing
